THE CONTAGION OF PESSIMISM

Each year about this time the retail area becomes more or less panicky and pessimistic about business conditions and each year this state of mind proves to be more pathological than real.

There are too many business men watching their cash registers day by day instead of using up business in a broad way and figuring it up once a period of time.

If a man complains about his business, and you ask him how his volume is, he will say it is up 10 or 15 per cent, but that John Jones down the street is just about up against it. Then if you look up John Jones you will find that his business has also increased but that someone else is in a bad way.

Bad business seems to be a contagion that everybody has heard about, but no one has actually seen it. It is the fact that with the tremendous grain shipments, the increased mining activity, the increased sale of shingles, and with housing prospects, etc., business is better in Vancouver today than it has ever been before.

Business men should bear this in mind and let it influence their conversation, not only when they are talking to each other, but to tourists who are passing through the town.

who will spread the gospel of pessimism or optimism according to the tone of their local contacts.

A NICE BALANCE

Last year, according to the United States Department of Commerce, American tourists spent $122,000,000 in Europe. In Canada they spent $107,000,000, nearly half as much as all Europe.

During the same year, Canadian tourists spent $17,000,000 in the United States.

In short, on the tourist traffic of 1927 Canada shows a clear balance of $145,000,000.

That is nice business. It shows that the tourist traffic is becoming one of Canada's major industries. And it is time the people of Canada and the people of Vancouver began to treat it as one of the country's major industries.

In any private business that shows a net annual profit of $100,000, at least $200,000 would be set aside for publicity purposes.

And yet Vancouver feels it is showing reckless generosity when it spends ten or fifteen thousand dollars to advertise for tourists.

Vancouver is to be lauded and not gain a real tourist centre, we will have to get it through our heads that the tourist industry is big business and worth merchandising extensively by big business.

THE SEA SERPENT

The old things are always coming to the fore. In the day of constant innovations it is nice to know that the oldest traditions are being maintained.

The liner Lusitania, which was on the other day, and what do you suppose happened? Why, the passengers insisted they had seen a giant sea serpent! Some of them even described it minutely, describing its size, eyes and colour, flowing mane. To be sure, the ship's officers said it was a whale, but the passengers stuck to the serpent story.

Every year we get at least one such story from Hawaii. That is as it should be. From the day the first Hawaiian galleon sailed to the day the great deep beyond Gibraltar men have been seeing non-existent sea serpents. We would not have this old custom done away with for any thing.

INFORMATION WANTED

In a history of printing in America, on the preparation of which I am now engaged, I should like to make an accurate statement regarding the beginning of the press in Macleod, and I appeal to the residents of the community to answer for me, as fully and accurately as possible, the following questions:

1. When was the first printing done in Macleod and by whom?

2. What were the first newspapers published in Macleod, and what the dates of their first issues?

3. Where are the best files of these early papers preserved, or what individuals own copies of the earliest issues?

4. What was the title of the first pamphlet or book printed in your community, the date of its publication, and the name of its printer?

Who has a copy of the first similar information regarding other early publications is also desired.

5. Has there ever been published, and if so, when and where, any local history or reminiscences regarding early printing and publishing in Macleod?

Answers to these questions, I shall also be much obliged to any resident or business man regarding early local printing and their work.

Anyone having such information will render a useful service to local history and to the town in the form of a letter addressed to me at 2609 Lewis Street, Chicago, Ill. The writer's name need not appear, and the information will be treated of course in permanent form.

Very sincerely,
Douglas C. McMurtrie.

AMERICAN GIRLS ON HOLIDAY VISIT MACLEOD

"We sure are stuck on Canada but your mountains don't seem to be the same as the ones we saw in Tennessee. That is a remark which was echoed by a dozen more girls, who were made by 'Daisy' Hamilton, secretary of the Tennessee Girls who are motoring through the States and Canada. There they were, the whole two of them, rubbing, rubbing and otherwise applying healing and preventive lotions of all makes and kinds to their limbs and necks, when without doubt had been a real successful tour for the relentless and unympathetic skelter."

About three months ago Capt. Thomas Hamilton, prominent business man of Nashville, Tennessee, made the same statement to three or four of his pretty nieces, that if they would like a real holiday they could receive several of their friends and he would take them on a tour through the western states and Canada, otherwise on the big Circle Tour. Much to his surprise, when called days expired about the middle of June, twenty-three pretty, vivacious, well-to-do girls and one or two boys, ready to step out and be being as good as the word, hired a big auto bus and with one or two other cars started on the trip. The party had been in the morning, in camping luxury, even down to "Bobby" Papper, a hungry pilot lady of the south, an expert chef, his specialty being real baked cakes and straws and in the morning.

The girls had a wonderful trip through St. Louis, Kansas, Denver, Salt Lake City, Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks, until they arrived at Carleton when heavy rains and heavy roads impeded their progress. They were here three days late on their schedule. It was their intention of getting to Calgary for the opening day of the stampede, but they were very anxious to witness this world-wide rodeo, also they want to have a cowboy breakfast on the main street of a city, and have some fun to see some "real tall, peppy" Mounties," all doted on their sleek bodies, sitting on their slick horses."

The girls' ranks range from sweet sixteen to over twenty, they are all going to their seniors, and they are out to have one grand holiday, and they are evidently going to have it before their return at the end of August. Several of them stopped Chief of Police Pringle and asked him: "Hey, big man, will you please show us a real honest-to-goodness foot on a brass rail and lift up their glasses and say 'here's to you'?"

One of the party, but they were fully equipped to see a new, real, wild old town with their rail, and no long bar with the rail, and no touch trays with the shout from. The girls bunch left for Calgary on Wednesday, after which they will go to Banff, Vancouver, Spokane, Seattle, then the Pacific coast cities back to Portland, and then on to "Home Sweet Home."

SALVATION ARMY BUILDING CAMPAIGN

The final returns of the census are as follows:

Subscriptions in cash: $629.50
Payments promised: $136.00
Total: $765.50

The Committee in charge of the campaign wishes to express its thanks to the Canadian Committee and to the Salvation Army officers for their efforts in making this campaign a success, and to the citizens and others for their loyal support in this undertaking. The amount realized is being held in a trust account for the building of a Hall, on which work is expected to be commenced before the end of the month. The building alone will cost over $2000.

A specialist may not know just what a specialist with pen, but he knows it's worth $155.

It is no longer a thick town if a citizen isn't unpopular just because he's rich.

With the many duties devolving on the inspector of schools as representative of the Department of Education, it becomes impossible

Smith, for many years. She is survived by two sons—James of Macleod, and George of Crow's Nest, and three daughters—Mrs. H. H. Smith, Mrs. H. H. Smith, and Mrs. H. H. Smith. The funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon from Christ Church, Macleod, the Rev. P. H. Smith officiating.

A large number of relatives and friends of the deceased attended the services both at the church and residence. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The late Mrs. Smith was predeceased by her husband 32 years.

HAIL STORM HITS MACLEOD

"One of the worst hailstorms of the year visited Macleod on Monday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock and did considerable damage to crops about three or four miles south of town, also destroyed many of the excellent gardens in the town, and stripping the creepers and trees of their leaves and foliage. W. Danahy and E. Rimland suffered about eighty per cent damage to their crops which promised heavy yields this fall. Luckily the storm only centred itself in a small section of the crops and the heaviest hail practically fell in the town area, where hailstones over an inch in diameter were picked up. Crops generally are splendid and the farmers in many cases have better and finer crops this year than they have had for over fifty years."

U. F. A. FEDERAL MEMBERS URGE BETTER SALARY TO RESEARCH MEN

Calgary, July 7.—Salary increases in scientific and technical research workers and those occupying technical positions with the department of agriculture was the gist of a resolution passed at the U. F. A. convention behind closed doors in the Hotel and Irvine Hall on Friday afternoon.

The resolution reads:

"Resolved, that the salaries of those engaged in scientific and technical research in the employ of the federal government, which are inadequate to retain capable persons in the service, should be suitably increased, and also that salaries of those occupied in technical positions in the department of agriculture be increased on a parity with those working in the same capacities outside of the service."

Robert Garinier, member for Acadia, reported in detail on legislation which was moved by the house with strenuous support by the Farmer party, and also as to measures, bills, and amendments, which were defeated because of the U. F. A. members' efforts.

Representatives of other Alberta constituencies spoke on various subjects. "Immigration" was the topic of W. T. Lucas, M. P., for Camrose; C. G. Costa, M. P., representing Macleod, discussed from a political standpoint, "The Protein Content of Wheat"; E. J. Garland, Bow River member dealt at length about the subject of transmutation of Alberta coal to eastern markets. The election scandal in Alabama was spoken of by D. F. Koller, member for that constituency; H. E. Spencer, M. P., for Battle River, discussed federal banking and credit reform; A. Speakman, M. P., for Red Deer, spoke about "Pensions and Other Soldier Problems."

Other provincial and federal legislative questions were also debated at this convention, which lasted the greater part of Friday.

NO INCREASE OFFER FOR E. D. B. C. ROAD

Edmonton, July 9.—That no increase in the joint offer for the E. D. and B. C. railway is being considered at the present time, was indicated by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., on his arrival here on Sunday morning on a tour of the western lines. He also stated that there has been no suggestion from the C. N. R. that the offer should be improved, but, of course, the absence of President E. W. Beatty in the old country might be responsible for there being no fresh developments regarding the joint offer.

Seen by the Journal, Sir Henry expressed his satisfaction with western conditions and the general appearance of the grain crops. Some people were claiming that the crop would run five hundred million bushels, but he felt it rather too soon for himself to make any estimate on the probable yield. He pointed out that in this country factors involved not only in harvesting but also in threshing, have to be taken into consideration and much may happen before the grain is actually harvested. The present conditions, however, gave good reason for believing that the western grain crop will be as good if not better, in point of yield, as last year.

Asked if any extensions to the Macdonald hotel were contemplated, the president said this matter had not yet come up for consideration. The C. N. R. he said, is now committed to considerable hotel building at Vancouver, Halifax and Saskatoon. While in Edmonton it was his intention to look into local conditions and ascertain if it was becoming necessary to add to the Macdonald on account of heavy demands upon its accommodation.

Children used to be told that they should be seen and not heard; now they are informed that one loud-speaker in the home is enough.

FEARS ARE ENTERTAINED—16 OF NOBLE CREW AND TEN RESCUED VICTIMS

Kings Bay, September, July 11.—Indications increased today that a tragedy of modern polar exploration had claimed the lives of 26 men. Grave fears were entertained for five others.

Those believed dead were:
Ten members of General Umberto Nobile's party of 16 which was aboard the dirigible Italia when it crashed May 25, returning from the north pole.

Ronald Aspinall, L. Detrichsen, Captain Gailbourn and a crew of three of a French seaplane which tried to find Nobile's party.
The Italian Alpine chasseur, Capt. Zora, and two Norwegians, Varming and Van Dungen, guides, who also Consumer-Nobile, the only one of the party rescued. One man was killed in the crash.

Fear was increased for the safety of five fever-stricken and partially insane men marooned on the ice by the crash of the airship.

There appeared to be no immediate prospect of their rescue for four days, attempts to communicate with them by radio having failed.

Raspberries

During to weather conditions in B. C. it has been difficult to get sufficient quantities of preserving raspberries. The crop is good, however, and we think there will be plenty of raspberries within the next few days.

CHERRIES

The rain in B. C. has caused the cherries to split on the trees rendering them unfit to ship. This means very high prices, whereas the crop was so heavy that it looked at one time as if cherries would be quite reasonable in price.

APRICOTS

Apricots seem to be the best lot this year so far. The crop is large, the quality good, and the price for No. 1's will be around $2.50 to $2.75, with No. 2's 25c per crate less. This is for 4 baskets. We recommend Apricots to the friend housewife this year.

PRESERVING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Fruit is coming in fast and you will have to see that you don't get left. Preserving time is slipping away. The winter supply of home-made preserves is appreciated by the family. Strawberries are budding. You think fast, however. You still have other fruits. Don't let them say I told you so when you are too late. The preserving season does not last long. Don't utter that plaintive wail, "Too late! Too late!" The strawberry season has passed by.
